COMMENT and RUMOR-

CHRISTMAS

The calling bell
That tones the morning air
And brings its plea
To worship where it dwells;
Is but a sign
That whispers in the soul
A praiseful moment
That you
May reap its toll.

We heard a speaker the other evening say: "Consider without prejudice—Act without fear." When we have the courage to do these things we have gone a long way toward living the Golden Rule. It's difficult to consider people and their actions without a prejudice creeping in. More difficult we think than to act without fear or favor.

The new cafe of Lynn and Mabel Price to open at 1877 Bacon street will get going next week according to the proprietors. They had expected to begin business Saturday this week but found equipment buying and installation these days takes a terrible lot of priorities and time.

Better control is needed over the dog population of Ocean Beach and San Diego, we'll agree, with one of our readers who says it is not uncommon for her to have a half dozen dogs, not her own, playing and scratching about the lawn and flower beds. Reports from Ocean Beach school also state one of the youngsters there was bitten this week and had to have first aid by the school nurse. Dogs are a little too numerous in our community—especially the ones who are allowed to roam wherever fancy might lead them. Your neighbor's property and family should be considered if you have a mischevious pup running about.

Down by the sea it is gloomy today
And beauty fathoms the deep,
Where colors are blue in the rightful way
And I am thinking of you.

Bank America Employees Share Largely In Profit Sharing Bonus

Employees of the Bank of America had been notified today by L. M. Giannini, president, that the bank's board of directors had voted again a special profit-sharing bonus to all salaried officers and employees, bringing to nearly 90 per cent of one month's salary the total of bonuses voted the staff during the 12 months.

For employees with 12 full months of service, the special bonus is computed on the basis of 40 per cent of the November basic salary up to and including $500 of such salary, and 35 per cent of any portion above $500. Those with a shorter period of service will receive a proportionate credit based on the number of full months employed.

Profit-sharing bonuses previously voted to employees monthly during the year were on the basis of four per cent of all monthly salaries up to and including $500 and two per cent on amounts over $500.

Bonus funds are intended for investment by the trustees of the Employees' Profit-Sharing Bonus Plan in Bank of America stock for the benefit of staff members. As in previous years, however, the amount of the special bonus just announced may be withdrawn in cash by employees whose salary is less han $200 per month.

Distribution of certificates of stock, representing 13,000 shares covering stock credits for year ending November 30, 1938, had also been made today to employees. Under the bank's profit-sharing bonus plan the stock is held in trust five years, although dividends are paid to the employees as earned. Total allocations to employees since inception of the plan amount to approximately 116,500 shares, Giannini disclosed with a current market value of approximately $5,067,750.

Civilian Defense---

"Waste at anytime is sinful. Waste in wartime in criminal."

Bomb bands, practice bombs, wing tips, airplane signals, parachute flares, ammunition chests, shell protectors, shell containers and many other military essentials are made from waste paper. Cardboard containers to ship supplies overseas to our fighting men are made of waste paper. Pulp is very scarce now because of manpower in our forests. Fold your newspapers flat, tie in bundles about 12 inches high. Tie magazines in bundles 18 inches high, corrugated and pasteboard boxes and cartons must be flattened and tied in bundles 12 inches high. Call a charity organization or take to the market on Newport ave. between Abbott and Bacon streets. Boy Scouts will be glad to collect your papers. This drive is on from Dec. 15th to Feb. 15th. Let's show our government what Ocean Beach can do to help.

Dimout regulations have been relaxed by authorities beyond the influence of San Diego Civilian Defense and the possibility for waste in electricity is grave. Electric power in San Diego is produced by the use of gas and oil. Oil is valuable. The present use of oil exceeds production. Save electricity. Save on soap, save on clothing, make old things do, in fact, save everything that can be of use in helping the war effort. This war is far from being over. Buy all the bonds you can. Give all the blood you can. Plasma is a God-send to all humanity.

The Red Cross still has boxes to fill for service men. You can get them at your Ocean Beach Red Cross center, 4769 Del Monte ave. Through the kindness of Charles Pagesey, Red Cross Center now has a large sign out in front so you cannot miss the place.

District No. 7 held its last meeting of the year Dec. 6th at the Church of God. Mrs. Isabella Churchill entertained with a beautiful description of the Christmas Fiestas beginning with the first one by St. Francis of Assise down to the fiestas at Old Town. She injected tales and legends of the different countries from the first fiesta until the present celebration of Christmas. Her beautiful presence and poetic language held the audience as if by magic and she left them all with a feeling of peace as she said "You all know of the Peace that passeth all understanding." When Love rules the world and hate disappears then will we have everlasting peace." Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Sterling presiding at the piano.

Mrs. Clara Baker and Mrs. Lu Smith of sector A. A. held a joint meeting on Nov. 16th.

Mrs. Dare and Mrs. Novnan of sector G each held meetings on Monday evening, Dec. 6th.

The clothing drive will have the assistance of the Girl Scouts, and Mrs. David Fraser, chairman of the Women's Division, Civilian Defense council spoke before the Scout Council Friday. She voiced her appreciation to the Scouts for their splendid offer of assistance to this drive and other drives that the Scouts will aid in. She stressed the vital need of this clothing and explained that the Allied Army of Reconstruction would follow the troops into the liberated countries, bringing food, clothing and assistance in rebuilding shelters. Mrs. Fraser stressed the fact the War knows no holiday and that by sharing our clothing with the homeless and innocent victims of wars aggression, we will enjoy our Christmas more this year knowing that we have given something personal. Mrs. Cecil Neff and Mrs. Meinard Schur, members of the Girl Scout Council have been appointed by Mrs. Fraser to represent the block plan on the Scout Council.

Henry Baer, who is now at Ft. Leonard Wood, was recently reported as injured in the explosion of an army tank. Jack C. Baer, younger brother, is in the south or mid Pacific with his address U. S. Sub. base, care postmaster, San Francisco.

You can eat your cake and have it, too—if you invest your CHRISTMAS savings in WAR BONDS. Keep on BACKING THE ATTACK.

Santa's Reclamation Center

Activities At Ocean Beach School

Fifth and sixth grades of the Ocean Beach school will present their regular assembly on Wednesday, December 15. Parents are cordially invited to attend. The following program will be given:

"Paul Bunyan's Christmas" a marionette play by Mrs. Storm's fifth grade.

"The Christmas Jest" by Miss Knudson's fifth and sixth grades.

"The Christmas Spirit" by Mrs. Nordahl's fifth grade.

Group and assembly singing of Christmas carols will be led by Miss Tupper.

Fifty Christmas gift boxes were filled by the Ocean Beach elementary school children for the Junior Red Cross. These boxes are to be distributed to the service men in the local hospitals. Mrs. Sylvia Lockridge, fourth grade teacher, was in charge of this service.

The first grade class in room 16 is building a Christmas toy shop. They are making the kinds of toys that Santa makes in his toy shop. Because of the fact that most of the usuable metal is being used in the war effort, the children are using wood, cloth, cotton, and clay in the construction of their toys. Most of them have had an opportunity to visit a real Christmas toy shop and have noticed that Santa's toys are also made of materials other than metals. Because of the inexpensive type of material used, the children have decided that they can afford to sell each toy for one dollar—or less.

As yet the newly built pueblo in one third grade—room 13—has not received a name. Carl Middaugh and Richard Caswell built the pueblo. The mountains that furnish a background were made by Bill Fry and Joe Brown. The engineers are hard at work building sturdy ladders to let the Indians climb into the house. Jack Dyer, Carroll Bartholomew, and Richard Prevost are hard at work. One ladder has been completed. Roger Lyman made the Kiva, while Jeanette Neil made the oven for baking piki bread. Gordon Tribby helped to build the chimney and brought us a broken Indian bowl. Now the question is—who will be the lucky person to have their name chosen for the pueblo?

The Sixth grade of Room 19 has a unit of work on transportation.

A large wall map of present commercial air-lines is being constructed by Donald Vose and Clyde Simmons to correlate with research on airplanes. The children have been given an interview at the United Air Lines. This group also observed National Book Week by class room participation in a play done in pantomime. The book which was pantomimed was "The Stuck-up Prince" by Louis Corcos, a recent Junior Guild Book.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1941

This story is written in memory of the men who fell at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

December 7, 1941 in the peaceful quiet of a South Pacific island, the waves were splashing upon the shore. Then the roar of Japanese bombers were over Pearl City. Over Pearl Harbor bombs fell. Children were killed. Ships were bombed from planes. The sunny south Pacific was sunny no more. People felt afraid of something, but did not know what to be afraid of.

Boats were being sunk right and left in the calm Pacific. In most of the year of 1941, we were on the defensive. We were not prepared to fight a global war yet. Our country had not been bombed, but we were still afraid.

Our government has issued War Saving Stamps and Bonds. When we buy stamps and bonds we are only lending our money for ten years. For every three dollars we put in stamps, in ten years we get four dollars back.

If we buy bonds now, while we are in elementary school, in ten years we will be in college. Then when we get our money we can make our bonds pay for our education in later years, and we are helping to protect our coast line from any possible invasion forces.

Be sure to buy as many War Saving Stamps and Bonds as you possibly can.

One Hundred Forty Attend Kiwanis Party

The San Diego-Imperial valley division of Kiwanis International met Wednesday evening in the San Diego Women's club with 140 members ad wives present. Installing officers for the evening, Charles Rinehart, had succumbed to a heart attack early Wednesday morning so the installation of Wm. Mueller as lieutenant governor was postponed, however, the suddenness of his untimely death made it impossible to cancel the dinner meet.

The first half hour of the program was carried out with music by the Greenwood quartet. The session then called to order with President Clarence Swenson of the Ocean Beach club, the host group, introducing 1943's lieutenant governor, Myron Insko.

Past Lieutenant Governors, James Dawson of National City and McLean Wilson of San Diego gave brief talks on Kiwanis history and current affairs. Wilson mentioned the great amount of child delinquency in our nation, state and the city of San Diego, urging the support of each group in every manner possible to overcome this delinquency problem. He said we should seek an opportunity to aid in its correction and to be of service to our community. It is no time to deplore the condition but it is time to "Do Something" to assist our youth to be true and constant, to have better ways of living, that would lead to better morals for young and middle-aged.

The retiring lieutenant governor was presented with a very fine traveling bag as a gift from the twelve clubs that he has served during the past year.

The assembly stood in silence for a brief moment in memory of their departed brother, Charles Rinehart, and also voted a message of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Rinehart.

Prominent San Diegan Dies In Sleep Tuesday

Charles E. Rinehart, prominent business man of San Diego for more than 30 years, and highly regarded citizen in every walk of life, died early Wednesday in his sleep, apparently from a heart failure.

Funeral services will be held at the First Congregational church at 2 p. m. Saturday, December 11. The rites are in charge of Johnson-Saum mortuary.

Mr. Rinehart came to San Diego in 1910 to establish the cleaning and dyeing establishment which bears his name, and became active in business and civic affairs. For these activities he became nationally known, having served as president of the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers in 1939 and 1940, and international trustee of the Kiwanis club.

Other Kiwanis posts held by Mr. Rinehart were district governor and lieutenant governor of the California-Nevada district, and president and vice president of the local organization.

President of the San Diego area council of Boy Scouts for 11 years, Mr. Rinehart was instrumental in restoring the Indian Village in Balboa park for use by the Scouts. He also was chairman of the Boy Scouts 12th regional executive committee, covering California, Arizona, Utah, Nevada and tthe Hawaiian islands, for four years, and was a member of the national Scout executive board.

For his services in Scouting Mr. Rinehart received the Silver Beaver award, highest Scouting honor given to a volunteer.

Mr. Rinehart was a long-time member of Silver Gate Lodge, 296, F. & A. M., and was a member of the University club, San Diego club, San Diego Country club and the First Congregational church.

Born July 10, 1879, on a farm near Constantine, Mich., Mr. Rinehart went to Bisbee, Ariz., in 1901 and for five years was employed as a storekeeper for a mining company. He opened his own retail drug business in the Arizona city in 1906 and operated the store until he came to San Diego.

The first Mrs. Rinehart was killed in a Tennessee train wreck in 1931. Mr. Rinehart himself was seriously injured in the train crash.

In 1940, Mr. Rinehart married Mrs. Florence Sullivan, widow of Herbert L. Sullivan, lumber merchant, who survives him. Also surviving are three step-children, Robert J. and Jerry Sullivan, of San Diego, and Mrs. Philip Olson, and a cousin, Mrs. Mabel Holly, of Ramona.

Schroder Suggested As Chamber Head In '44

(An editorial from the Mission Beach Californian.)

Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce will elect a president and other officers for the coming year on Monday, Dec. 13. For many years Carl Schroeder served as head of the beach organization and accomplished much in securing new improvements, not only for his home town, but for all the beaches.

Among his accomplishments for Ocean Beach was West Point Loma boulevard and the new fishing pier.

Now Mr. Schroeder wants the beaches connected directly with Harbor Drive. If he is elected president and he has consented to run, he will camp at civic center until his project is approved.

How about it Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce voters?

Percy Broell Reelected President Old San Diego Chamber of Commerce

Percy Broell, assistant city park director, recently was re-elected president of the Old San Diego chamber of commerce at its annual meeting. William Gilliam, a past president of the chamber, presided.

Other officers chosen for 1943 include Wayne C. Fry, vice-president; Mrs. F. L. Prather, secretary, and Lee Mead treasurer.

At the suggestion of Councilman Fred Simpson, the chamber unanimously adopted a resolution urging the board of supervisors to place on the May, 1944 ballet a proposition for the formation of a water authority to "handle the affairs of putting Colorado river water into benefical use in the city and county of San Diego."

SP Appeals To Public To Cut Holiday Trips

Thos. Fielding, local Southern Pacific representative has received the following notice from Mr. F. S. McGinnis, Vice Pres., System Passenger traffic SP Co.:

Anticipating heavy demands from furloughed service men and women for train accommodations during the coming holiday period, Southern Pacific is appealing to civilians to limit themselves to most urgent trips during the period December 17 through January 10.

"We expect that more than 80 per cent of our train space will be requested by service personnel and essential business travelers," said F. S. McGinnis, vice president in charge of passenger traffic. "Also there will be heavy demands for tickets to training camps by relatives of men who are unable to obtain furloughs. We are counting upon the public to refrain from unnecessary travel so that service men and women may enjoy Christmas trips or visits from members of their families."

Action by Southern Pacific last summer, requiring advance reservation of seats for coach trips, has almost entirely eliminated the overcrowding of its trains, according to McGinnis. "These coach reservations," he explained, "are not made by telephone, but at the time tickets are purchased.'

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Forces Advance in South Pacific As New Air, Sea, Land Blows Hit Japs; 1944 Farm Machinery Output Doubled; Germany Stunned by Berlin Bombing

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

SOUTH PACIFIC:
Yanks Advance

Less than a week after U. S. forces under Maj. Gen. Holland Smith swarmed onto the shores of the Gilbert islands of Makin, Tarawa and Apamama, the stars and stripes floated bravely over them and most of their 6,000 Japanese defenders lay dead.

Even as U. S. forces were mopping up the Gilberts, from which the enemy once menaced Allied supply lines to the southwest Pacific, American airmen struck another heavy blow at Jap naval forces serving their embattled troops on their last Solomons' holding of Bougainville island. Of a force of six Jap destroyers, two were sunk by torpedoes and two more by gunfire by a smaller squadron of U. S. warships.

Maj. Gen. Holland M. T. Smith

In ground fighting on Bougainville, U. S. forces expanded their base of operations under support of heavy artillery barrage and bombing attacks of Mitchells and Venturas.

FARM MACHINERY:
Doubling Output

Rationing of farm machinery will be reduced to 31 types next year as increased raw material allotments will allow the manufacture of almost twice as much equipment as was made in 1942 and about 80 per cent of the 1940 total. Production of repair parts will be unrestricted.

With sufficient carbon steel available, only uncertainty of supplies of anti-friction bearings, malleable castings and forgings is ruffling farm machinery manufacture. As in all mechanical production, bearings are the chief bottleneck.

Despite the improved outlook for farm machinery, difficulties may arise from the scarcity of hauling vehicles, including trucks, and in acquiring replacement tires for trucks now in operation.

LIVING COSTS:
Up 23 Per Cent

While the War Labor board's "Little Steel" formula restricted wage increases to 15 per cent over the January, 1941, level, living costs have risen 23.4 per cent since then, according to figures of the department of labor.

Originally, WLB awards were based on a 15 per cent increase in living costs from January, 1941, to September, 1942. Since September, 1942, however, there has been another 5.6 per cent rise, with labor demanding a corresponding reduction in living costs or higher wages to equalize the present condition.

Further, labor charged that the government figures on living costs were inaccurate, and the President appointed a special committee to look into the subject.

WORKING WOMEN:
More Needed

With 16½ million women already at work, another million are needed to round out war production demands.

As of October, only 700,000 people remained unemployed, and with this sharp reduction in the number idle, it has been found necessary to call on women to fill in many jobs, especially in busy war production centers.

The extent to which women have been recruited for industry since the armament program got under way can be glimpsed by the fact that only 10,800,000 were working in October, 1940.

CONGRESS:
Ban Subsidies

To the senate for approval went a house bill prohibiting payment of subsidies to reduce or maintain retail food prices and only allowing their use to stimulate agricultural production.

Championed by the administration as a means of keeping living costs down, retail subsidies were attacked in the house as inflationary, in that such savings to consumers only added to their purchasing power, and money borrowed for the purpose increased the national debt.

The administration is now spending approximately 800 million dollars annually on retail subsidies for meat, butter, milk and other products. Under the house bill, subsidies would be continued only for domestic vegetable oils, fats and oil seeds.

In approving subsidy payments to stimulate production, the house voted to extend the life of the Commodity Credit corporation to June 30, 1945, and maintain its borrowing power at three billion dollars. CCC also was given permission to resell at a loss perishable fruits and vegetables bought to support prices.

Vote for Higher Taxes

Also to the senate went a house bill providing for 2½ billion dollars in additional taxes, far below the 10½ billion dollars requested by Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau.

Largest source of new revenue in the bill would be obtained from taxes on goods, such as beer, liquor, jewelry, luggage, bulbs and cosmetics, and from services such as telephones and telegraphs, amusements, transportation and club dues.

Adjustments in individual and corporate income taxes would provide substantial revenues, with approximately 600 million dollars being obtained from additional levies on business.

Local postal rates would be increased to three cents and charges would be raised on money orders and special deliveries.

EUROPE:
Fortress Smoulders

With its home front rocked by Berlin's devastation by 1,000 RAF bombers, Germany sought to bolster the southeastern flank of her smouldering Fortress Europe by turning to military maneuvers to influence wavering, neutral Turkey.

While Berlin's populace dug out of its ruins, Germany was reported moving troops through Sofia, Bulgaria, to the Grecian frontier, fronting Turkey. The moves closely followed the Nazis' recapture of the strategic Aegean islands of Kos, Leros and Samos, from where they could threaten Turkey's western coast.

The Germans' movements appeared to be their answer to Allied pressure on Turkey to cast her lot with the U. S., British and Russian cause. Under terms of the Turkish-British alliance of 1939, each country promises to come to the assistance of the other if attacked.

In Italy, Britain's 8th army occupied lowlands along the Adriatic coast, in preparation for an assault against the Nazis' mountain positions immediately to the north. U. S. casualties in Italy since September 9 were placed at 1,613 killed; 2,685 missing, and 6,361 wounded.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

SHIPS: Shipyards under management of Henry J. Kaiser have launched 1,087 vessels since January 1, 1941, Mr. Kaiser told the New York Economic club. Of these, 985 are Liberty ships, 40 or more are tank-landing ships, 40 are fast tankers, and 12 are aircraft carriers. "Two or three," he said, "are troop transports with seven decks, carrying 4,000 passengers."

CABLES: The navy will make it possible for naval personnel to receive cablegrams at most shore installations outside continental United States. Service will be expanded shortly after the first of the year.

The army has forbidden fixed text holiday greetings to be transmitted to soldiers overseas between December 6 and 25, to prevent overtaxing of facilities.

Christmas Phrases From Many Lands

People of other countries say "Santa Claus" as follows: China, Shun Dan Lao Ren; Germany, Sankt Nicholaus; Switzerland says it in four languages: Sankt Niklaus (German); Samichlaus or Schmutzli (Swiss German); Saint Nicolas (French), Besana (Italian); but the person supposed to bring gifts to children on Christmas Eve is called Chrischtchindli in the German speaking part of Switzerland, Pere Noel in the western or French part and Besana in the southern of Italian part.

The Netherlands, Sint Nicolaas, or in children's rhymes, Sinterklaas. Sweden, Jultomte. The Irish equivalent is Naomh Nioclas, but this phrase is never used; instead they say Father Christmas. Romania, Mos Craciun (Old Man Christmas). French speaking Belgians say St. Nicolas, and Flemish speaking Belgians call him St. Niklaas. Albania, Shen-Kolli; Poland, the Star Man or Gwiazdor; Finland, Joulupukki, (Joulu meaning Christmas and pukki meaning buck).

Santa Claus is unknown in Spain, the children receiving gifts on January 6 when the Three Wise Men, Melchior, Baltazar and Gaspar, are supposed to bring them. Christmas in Portugal is principally of a religious character, the correspondent to Santa Claus being Menino Jesus (the Christ Child). Santa Claus is unknown in Greece, where Christmas is a religious festival and gifts are exchanged on January 1, St. Basil's day.

Simplicity Motif Of Holiday Table

Let simplicity be the keynote of your table decorations during the holiday season. Food and fine fellowship are complete without yards of dazzling tinsel and impressive displays to center the table.

Warmth should be reflected by the colors of the centerpiece. Polished apples, sprays of evergreen from the tree in the front yard, fruit cake with sprigs of red holly, and greetings written with pomegranate seeds on a mirror spell out the Christmas message.

Evergreen Corsages.

Individual evergreen corsages on top of the napkin at each place are economical and attractive. Select sprays of evergreen which are about four inches long and fasten a cluster of bittersweet or cranberries to the center with a fine wire. Cover the wire with a small red ribbon and tie a bow on the front of the corsage. Bind the bottom of the stem with clear, sticky cellophane to keep any of the natural sap of the branch from seeping out. Equip each corsage with a small pin.

Center the table with a group of four corsages on a mirror. Place the stem ends at the center as the base for one broad Christmas candle. The mirror will reflect the bright colors and will catch the dripping wax from the candle.

Fruit Wreath.

A fruit Christmas wreath on a polished chop plate is made of green grapes instead of the holly and dotted with clusters of red cranberries rather than holly berries. The wreath is finished with a large red bow.

Wash a bunch of light green grapes in warm water and break them into clusters about two inches in diameter. Remove any spotted or dried grapes from the bunches. Arrange in a circle on a large wooden platter, with the fruit overlapping to make an even wreath.

Cut fine wire or white, wiry pipe cleaners into two-inch lengths with the kitchen scissors. Place a bright cranberry on the end of each piece of wire. Twist three or four of the cranberry-tipped wires together to form a cluster of berries. Tuck the ends of the wire deep into the grape wreath.

December Poetry

Why Do Bells for Christmas Ring?

Why do bells for Christmas ring?
Why do little children sing?

Once a lovely, shining star
Seen by shepherds from afar,
Gently moved until its light
Made a manger's cradle bright.

There a darling baby lay
Pillowed soft upon the hay;
And its mother sang and smiled,
"This is Christ, the holy child."

Therefore bells for Christmas ring,
Therefore little children sing.

—Eugene Field.

Singing Christmas Carols

The old custom of singing carols in the streets was revived in 1917. In 1918 30 cities co-operated. It is expected that carols will be sung this Christmas eve on the streets, in the parks, as well as in the churches, schools and public institutions of communities.

Feast in Honor of Christ

The very first evidence of a feast having been held in honor of the birth of Christ was in Egypt, about the year 200.

Conserve Sugar, but Satisfy Sweet Tooth
(See Recipes Below)

Saving on Sugar

Extensive summer and fall canning has left many a family low on sugar. Homemakers are writing in and asking for recipes which will give their families "just something to satisfy the sweet tooth" —but that something must be sugar-saving.

Now that jellies are rationed you may have to use what sugar you can get for putting up those juices you canned during summer for jelly —and that means there will be less sugar than before left for baking uses. Sugar substitutes can be utilized not only in cakes and cookies but desserts and icings. Many cake recipes, too, can be made with less sugar than they call for.

Fruits-in-season now include cranberries which are perfectly delicious in this steamed pudding:

Steamed Cranberry Pudding.
(Serves 4)

- 2 cups fresh cranberries
- 1⅓ cups flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon mace
- 2 teaspoons soda
- ⅓ cup hot water
- ½ cup molasses

Mix flour, salt, spices and soda; cut cranberries in two and add to dry ingredients. Combine hot water and molasses; blend with first mixture. Transfer to greased pudding mold; cover and steam 2½ hours. Unmold and serve with your favorite pudding sauce.

Do chocolates satisfy the sweet tooth in your family? Here is a light, lovely dessert:

Chocolate Puff Souffle.
(Serves 6)

- ½ 7-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Pinch of salt
- 1 tablespoon vanilla
- 3 eggs

Melt chocolate with milk in top of double boiler. Beat with egg beater until smooth. Add sugar, salt, vanilla and unbeaten eggs; beat with egg beater 1 minute. Cover, and cook over boiling water 20 minutes without lifting cover. Remove from heat and serve immediately with cream.

It is possible to make cakes without any sugar at all, but better results can be achieved if some sugar is used in the cake. Too many all-syrup cakes have a coarse texture to which we are unaccustomed after years of light, fine-grained cakes. Here are suggestions which you can be proud to add to your wartime cookery collection:

Lynn Says:

Starve the Garbage Can! Precious vitamins lie right underneath the thin skin of carrots. Don't pare, just scrub the vegetable.

The same is true of potatoes. Scrub well and cook with skins on, then eat skins and all.

Young beets can be cooked as other greens. Season and serve. You'll be delighted.

Tops of spring onions make wonderful seasoning. Celery tops are grand for soups, salads. Coarser parts of celery can be pureed for soup.

Carrot and radish tops are attractive for garnishes. Parsley and lettuce are more than garnish —they're to be eaten.

Check refrigerator every morning—and the bread box, too. Use every bit of leftover in that day's meals.

All-Bran Prune Cake.
(Makes an 8 by 8 inch pan)

- ⅓ cup milk
- ½ cup bran cereal
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ⅔ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup flour
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup chopped cooked prunes

Pour milk over bran cereal and allow to soak for about 10 minutes. Blend butter and sugar thoroughly, add egg and beat until mixture is light and fluffy. Stir in soaked bran cereal. Sift flour with baking powder and spices; mix with chopped prunes and add to first mixture. Spread in greased cake pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven about 35 minutes.

Molasses Gingerbread.

- 1 cup molasses
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup sour cream
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon allspice
- ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon ground cloves

Heat molasses and butter. When the latter is melted, remove from the fire; add sour cream and beaten eggs. Mix remainder of ingredients together and sift into liquid mixture. Pour into cake pans lined with greased paper and bake in a slow oven about 30 minutes. Serve hot with cold applesauce or frost with cream cheese-powdered sugar icing, flavored with lemon or orange juice.

Have you enough sugar for a favorite white cake but not enough for an icing? Then here's the answer in a lovely topping which does not require too much honey:

Honey Topping.

- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 4 tablespoons sugar
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 4 tablespoons honey
- ½ cup chopped nuts or coconut

Cream butter, add sugar, mixing well. Add flour and honey and beat until well blended. Fold in nutmeats or coconut. Spread on cake which is still warm from baking and place under broiler until topping bubbles.

A cookie recipe that's low on all ingredients is this delicious wafer which is lovely to look at, too!

Oatmeal Honey Wafers.
(Makes 16 Wafers)

- 1 egg
- ⅓ cup honey
- 1 cup rolled oats
- ⅓ teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons melted butter or margarine
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla
- ⅓ cup chopped nuts

Beat egg until light; add honey, continuing to beat. Then add remaining ingredients. Drop by spoonfuls, about 2 inches apart, on greased baking sheet. Flatten slightly with a knife dipped in cold water. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 10 minutes or until a light delicate brown.

If you want sugar-saving suggestions, write to Lynn Chambers, Western Newspaper Union, 210 South Desplaines Street, Chicago, Illinois. Don't forget to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your reply.

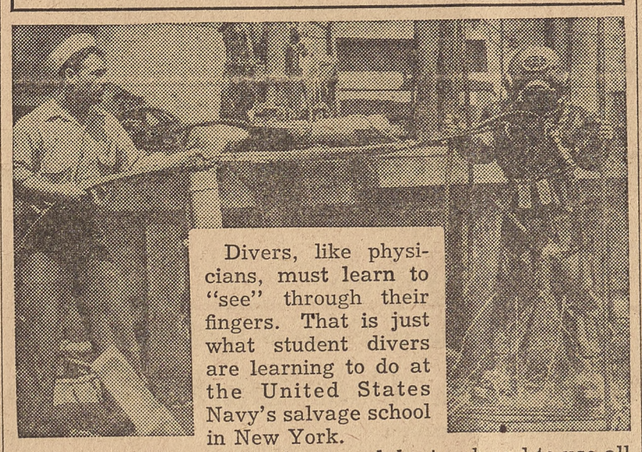
Beating Davy Jones on His Home Grounds



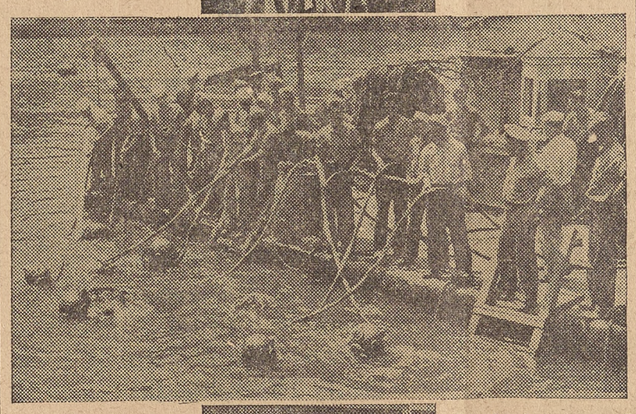
Divers, like physicians, must learn to "see" through their fingers. That is just what student divers are learning to do at the United States Navy's salvage school in New York.

Here students are taught to work by touch and to use all kinds of tools under water. Conditions here are purposely made difficult so that when the students are on their own they will have confidence. For example, Hudson river mud gives the water the constituency of black paint. Yet student divers work in it without lights. When accepted for training, a man is given a submersion test to discover any weakness. A claustrophobe might be totally unaware of such tendency until he is locked up in a suit on the bottom of the river.

In top picture a student diver is being hoisted out of the depths on a special elevator gadget. Note water pouring out of his knee pockets. They are used to carry tools when he works below.

Members of the officers' class at the salvage school are pictured around the diving tank. One student is going down to do some underwater welding and burning. Divers also learn to build bulkheads under water, splice cables, rig all kinds of tackle, and do practically everything that skilled mechanics do topside.

Right: Hanging from the rafters to prevent creases or puckers in the rubber, are some of the suits worn by the student divers. Below: Divers bob around a float as they practice air control. Divers can regulate both the intake and outlet air valves. Control of these makes it possible for the diver to remain stationary at the required level. He must guard against inflating his suit very suddenly for the pressure might spread out his arms and legs so that he could not reach the valves, and send him shooting up to the surface. Because of this sudden decrease in pressure he would be in danger of an attack of the dreaded "bends" — bubbles of gas in the blood.



Right: Students listen carefully to a lecture on modern navy diving methods. This course consists of 14 weeks of hard work. Handling the mechanism of his suit must become second nature to the diver. For example, a diver was working on the submerged hull of a ship in North Pacific. Jap planes were spotted. The diver, working on his back in a mud tunnel on the bottom, was told he had four minutes to get out. Even a medium - sized bomb falling anywhere within two or three thousand feet of a submerged diver will bring him to the surface—dead. Although working in the dark, and hampered by lines which might have fouled, he got out in time.

These two students are making models of seagoing craft.

This Fish Uses Its Mouth As Incubator, Nursery

Some fish have curious breeding habits. The curious haplochromis, for example, uses its mouth as an incubator, meanwhile going on a self-denying diet. This fish is only two to two and a half inches long, as a rule.

When the time comes for spawning, the male will make a hollow in the sand, and in this the eggs are deposited and fertilized. The female then picks up the eggs in her mouth, carrying them about this way for about two weeks until the young hatch out.

The mouth of the female continues to act as a refuge for the little fish until they are able to forage for themselves. During the period of hatching the mother does not take food, but after hatching she chews food particles fine enough for her offspring to devour.

Thumbs Down On Subsidies

The action of Congress in scuttling the food subsidy program, we believe, will meet with general public approval. There are a certain number of persons, of course, who always hate to pay a bill when it is due—and they will be unhappy. There are others, too, who live in the hope that they can get the government to pay their bills for them—and they will be the most unhappy of all. But the majority of the American people, in our opinion, are wise enough to know that when the government pays a bill for them today, it will collect with compound interest tomorrow.

The whole subsidy program was a very transparent scheme to make black look white and convince the people that prices were being rolled back —when actually they were being rolled up. We'd prefer to pay the butcher the full price for our beefsteak now, instead of paying part to the butcher today and part to the tax collector omorrow.

How Shall We Observe Christmas?

MANY today are asking: How shall we observe this Christmas? Shall we prepare for the usual festivities? Others undoubtedly pray for courage and grace to bear the prospect of a broken family circle. Aggressive suggestions of separation, loneliness, nostalgic remembrance of other happy seasons, or fearful uncertainty about the future may present themselves. In spite of human misgivings, there is the best of reasons for genuine joy at Christmas. God and His universe are still the same.

Reverence and humility fill the heart as one ponders the sacred Scriptural record of the first Christmas. The beautiful, true story which Matthew and Luke relate, is untouched by time, indifference, or self-centered plans and pastimes. One marvels at the spiritual readiness of the unlearned shepherds and those who were counted wise men of their day. Scriptural prophecy and earnest longing had prepared their hearts and minds for the message of angels and the star of Bethlehem. No pride, fear, or stolidity hindered the divine impulsion which led them to the manger. . . .

The Wisemen of the East rejoiced when they found the young Jesus and his mother. By eager sharing of their material treasure they expressed in some measure their joy and gratitude for his appearing. Then, moved by heavenly intuition, they concealed the news of their precious discovery and returned, by a different route, to their own country. Thus the babe was saved from the murderous hate of Herod, the king. Angels, holy messengers of God, continued to guide and protect Jesus throughout his earthly experience. . . .

Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has said (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 262), "I love to observe Christmas in quietude, humility, benevolence, charity, letting good will towards man, eloquent silence, prayer, and praise express my conception of Truth's appearing." In the quiet, sacred sanctuary of spiritualized thought there is no desire for meaningless merriment or material display. Real joy springs from the knowledge of ever-present Truth and Love. If discordant elements of mortal thought try to intrude and hide happiness, one may rest assured that these are illusive and powerless. God, good, is the only real presence and power. Man expresses Mind in wisdom, joy, goodness, and spiritual affection for all. Strained, tired faces, fretful scurrying, and estrangement scarcely express true Christmas benevolence. Angels beget a spiritual quietude to which worldly commotion, personal pressure, and physical distress are strangers.

On page 150 of "Miscellaneous Writings" Mrs. Eddy says tenderly, "Space is no separator of hearts." How comforting is this angel thought to those who long for the personal presence of absent dear ones! What a blessing to know that thoughts winged with spiritual love can span continents, sea, and the heavens! Since God is infinite Life, Love, Mind, Spirit, He must and does fill all space. The angels of His ever-presence never desert man, nor can he resist them. Matter and its supposed barriers of time, distance, and impenetrable substance have no actual existence. Man is forever led by Love and empowered by Mind to see, choose, and experience only that which is good. . . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

VICTORY'S SONS

THEY were smashing up the submarine base at St. Nazaire last May Day, when an incendiary bullet set their Flying Fortress afire. Three of the crew, believing the situation hopeless, bailed out.

Little Sgt. Maynard Smith of Caro, Mich., the ball turret gunner, was on his first mission. He saw that one man was wounded, and the other five were trapped, or overcome by smoke. Using all the extinguishers and water bottles aboard, he fought the fire, finally beating it out with his hands.

After hastily giving first aid to the wounded crewman, he leaped to the waist guns, to drive off the Focke-Wulfs that were attempting to finish off the big bomber. For 90 minutes he kept up this one-sided battle. Meanwhile the pilots recovered sufficiently to bring the ship home.

Sgt. Smith's officers say that he saved the Fortress, and the lives of the crew. The Secretary of War personally hung the blue ribbon of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest decoration, about his neck.

See Here, Private Hargrove!

by Marion Hargrove

W.N.U. SERVICE

THE STORY SO FAR: Private Marion Hargrove, former newspaper employee of a North Carolina paper, has been inducted into the army and is receiving his basic training at Fort Bragg. He has become well acquainted with many phases of army life but because of his classification as a cook and his too-often KP assignments he knows more about the Company kitchen than most rookies. He has acquired a good understanding of "goldbricking," "shooting the breeze" and all the other extra-curricular soldier activities. As we pick up the story he is discussing some of the interesting traits of his close friend, Private Sher. It is with Sher that Hargrove has shared many of his adventures.

CHAPTER X

There was one Sunday evening when Sher started a letter to his family and found, after a couple of paragraphs, that there was nothing for him to write about. "Here, Junior," he said. "Write a letter for your old daddy. Give them the old Hargrovian schmaltz."

Since Junior was in a devilish mood, he sat down and wrote a long and inspired letter to the Shers of Columbus, Ohio—telling them how their little Maurice was falling behind in his class by goldbricking and hanging out late at the Service Club, entreating them to return him to his true career, the Army. I finished by saying, "You see who's writing the letters; you should know where to send the cookies. Forget that bum Maury."

Several days later—after I had swapped in skillet for a typewriter and had moved to Headquarters Battery—I came by Battery A to see if I had any mail from my nonwriting friends in Charlotte. There weren't any letters, but there was a package which looked about the size of a steamer trunk. There were enough cookies inside to feed a small regiment for three days.

The card inside read: "Dear Hargrove—We think your idea about the cookies is superb. Give Maury one or two; he's a good boy when he wants to be. Why don't you come up to Columbus on your furlough?"

It seemed that this beautiful friendship—with all its fragrant memories, its happy hours and hell-raising, its beautiful cigarettes, cookies, and Samaritan relatives—was destined to end with the closing of the basic training cycle here.

The old gang, which has lived and worked and played together for over three months and has grown into a close and sympathetic brotherhood, is dissolving now. The training cycle is being finished and already the old ties are loosing.

The student cooks whom I grew to know and feel a fondness for during those months are not so fortunate as some of the other soldiers. The Charlotte boys who were inducted with me and who went through their antitank training together will go together to Fort Knox and will continue to be with each other for at least a while longer. On the other hand, these student cooks of Battery A will not go out together. No Fort is going to be sent a whole battery of cooks. One cook will be needed here, another there, and the old third platoon will be scattered from hell to breakfast.

An old thirty-year man, with five or six hash marks on his sleeve, will tell you that no matter how long you stay in the Army, you'll never find a battery that quite stacks up to the first battery in which you served, no group of buddies quite like the old gang you knew first.

There's a reason for it. In your first organization, you learn for the first time all the regulations and the customs and the traditions of the Army. When you first face them, they're tough or they're uninteresting, and when you finally get to understand and agree with them, they're identified in your memory with the battery where you learned them.

With the men who serve with you there, you grow closer through hardship and privation than you can possibly grow to any other group. After you get out into a line organization—a real tactical unit, such as these boys are entering—any hardship or misery is just a part of the routine. The sufferers are men rather than boys.

But in this first training cycle, this rookie stage, you haven't been hardened. You and the new soldiers about you are sensitive, delicate boys, newly yanked from home or school, accustomed to an easy-going and usually painless life. You share each other's illness, fatigue, despair. When Happy Menza grows homesick for Buffalo and McGlauflin starts a wistful reminiscing about the lakes and forests of Minnesota, you are homesick for them rather than for yourself. You are companions tested in misery.

Friday night was probably the last evening the boys of my old crowd would be together. At least, it was the last evening they were sure of being together. The following day they were to go home for a week's furlough. On their return, next Monday, they will be assigned to their permanent stations to enter the field as soldiers. So they arranged to hold a party Friday night on the river beyond Fayetteville.

When we rode to the river in our chartered bus, we rang the welkin with the old songs—the faintly fragrant songs you pick up through the years and the "Caisson Song" and "Old King Cole" that you learn in the Army. They were boisterous, those songs, but a melancholy strain ran under all of them.

At the party we ate barbecue and we drank beer and we recalled the best anecdotes of the training cycle. We sang and we shouted. Two or three of the boys dipped a little too deep into the keg and became slightly sentimental. And although the food and the beer were the best, the songs were the songs we loved and the anecdotes were the cream of the season, it was empty joy. It had a dull undercurrent of sorrow.

It was the sort of feeling that you know in the last hour before the New Year's bells, the feeling that reaches its fullest when "Auld Lang Syne" is heard.

Since we left our homes last July we've learned a lot. Drills and rifles, pup tents and gas masks, all of that.

This, though—the scattering of our first fraternity—is another thing we have learned, now and for the first time. It is our first lesson in a new kind of homesickness, bred only in the Army.

"Private Hargrove," I said to myself, "you have been doing quite too much gallivanting lately. There have been too many movies, too many bull sessions, too many hours spent at the Service Club and too much time spent flirting with that cute little waitress at the delicatessen in Fayetteville. Tonight, Private Hargrove, you will take this interesting and improving book, read it until Lights Out and go to bed promptly at nine o'clock."

There was a little back talk, a little argument, a little entreaty. However, the forces of Truth and Progress prevailed. Immediately after supper I adjourned to the squadroom, arranged myself comfortably on my bunk and dug into the interesting book. Peace and quiet held sway about me.

Private Wesley Sager, late of Amsterdam, New York, grew weary of the quiet. Yawning widely, he rolled over in bed and with a sudden swoop yanked the pillow from beneath the head of Private Melvin Hart. "Yippee," screamed Private Sager, tossing the pillow across the squadroom to a willing accomplice. "Yippee," screamed the willing accomplice, tossing the pillow back to Private Sager.

Private Hart rose and retrieved his pillow with dignity and formality. He placed it on his bunk, smoothed it and laid his head upon it. Three privates sighed in resignation. The incorrigibles were at it again.

Private Sager lay quiet for a while. Then he broke into a loud, regular, but unconvincing snore. The three sighing privates did not return to their occupations, but lay in philosophic expectation. Once the boys in that corner got started, nothing but physical exhaustion could stop them.

Private Sager turned as if tossing in his sleep. Private Hart noted the move and held his book ready to strike if a hand came toward his pillow. Private Sager turned again, facing away from Private Hart, and Private Hart relaxed his vigil. When he did, the hand shot out once more and the pillow sailed across the room and into waiting arms.

Again Private Hart retrieved the pillow and again he lay down. "Why," he asked, "must you behave like a two-year-old infant? Can't you act like a normal adult?"

"Sure I can," Private Sager replied. "Kindly step outside with me and put up your fists."

Private Hart gave vent to a quiet and gentlemanly oath. "Please do me the honor to shut your mouth," he requests. "I should like to read without the clamor of your big yap roaring in my ears."

This is but the opening gun. Almost daily it marks the beginning of a half-hour session of blusters, threats, extravagantly insulting remarks, and repeated invitations from each side for the other to step outside and settle it. Nothing ever comes of it and soon the contending parties tire of the play.

Silence reigns again, but its throne is shaky. Private Hart tires of his book and turns to Private Sager. "Were you at the dance last night when the redhead got started telling what she thought of Jim Carney's dancing?"

Private Carney picks up the bait. "Anything Hart says about me or about what anybody else says about me is entirely fictitious, and any resemblance to persons living or dead is coincidental and not intended."

Private Sager sits up suddenly in bed. "Don't talk like that about Hart," he says in a quiet, serious, and menacing voice. "Anything you say about Hart is a personal insult to me. If you're inclined to insult me, kindly take off your stripe and step outside with me."

"Don't you go talking like that to the ranking first-class private of this section," rasps Private Hart. "I don't like your manner at all. Kindly step outside with me while I beat your brains out."

If you want peace and quiet on these stay-at-home nights, the best solution is to go to the second barracks down the line. There's nobody down there except fifty-eight members of the band, who are always rehearsing at this time of night.

Slang runs wild in the Army. It's like a disease or the liquor habit. Among the boys who sit around on the back steps after Lights Out and bat the breeze far into the night, no simple and understandable English word is used where a weird and outlandish concoction can be substituted.

A new and gullible man is sent for the cannon report, or the rubber flag which is used on rainy days.

Water is GI lemonade. Salt is sand or Lot's wife; pepper is specks; sugar is sweetening compound. Milk is cat beer; butter, dogfat. Ketchup is blood. In the untiring imagination of the soldier, green peas become China berries; hominy grits are glamorized into Georgia ice cream; rice is swamp seed. Potatoes become Irish grapes; prunes change to strawberries; hot cakes become blankets. Bread is punk and creamed beef on toast is punk and salve. Meat loaf and hash are kennel rations.

It is strictly against the code of the Army to say a complimentary word about the food or the cook, no matter how good the food is or how hard the cook labors to make it so. Oscar of the Waldorf in the Army, would still be either a slum-burner or a belly-robber.

Back at the News, the boys in the composing room and the mailing department used to send greenhorns searching all over the building for erasing ink, striped or dotted ink, paper stretchers, and other non existent items. Here, a new and gullible man is sent for the cannon report, or for the biscuit gun, the flagpole key, or the rubber flag which is used on rainy days.

Here are some of the most popular figures of speech:

Army Bible—the Articles of War; regulations.

Barrage—a party, especially where the Demon Rum rears its ugly head.

Blanket drill—sleep.

Butchershop—a dispensary or hospital.

By the numbers—like clockwork; with precision and efficiency.

Chili bowl—regulation haircut.

Chest hardware—medals.

Didie pins—the gold bars of a second lieutenant.

Dog robber—an orderly.

The eagle—money. On payday, the eagle flies.

Front and center—come forward.

Flying time—sleep.

Gashouse—a beer joint.

Glue—honey.

Goof off—to make a mistake.

Handshaking—playing up to superiors.

Higher brass — the higher ranks of officers.

Hollywood corporal—an acting corporal.

Holy Joe—the chaplain.

Honey wagon—the garbage truck.

Housewife—a soldier's sewing kit.

Jubilee—reveille, which is too often pronounced "revelee."

Mother Machree—a sob-story alibi.

Pocket lettuce—paper money.

Pontoon checks — canteen checks, good for credit at the post exchange.

Ride the sickbook—to goldbrick the easy way by pretending to be ill.

Shoulder hardware—the shoulder insignia of a commissioned officer.

Prettify Your Basic Dress Or Suit With Glamour Accent

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

ALMOST encouraging season this for women who needs must keep within a limited clothes budget! If you fortify yourself with a simple basic dress or suit, or both, that you can rely upon to "go places" this winter, it's cheerio to you! To be attired as chic as the next one all you will need is an ample supply of eye-catching accessories that will dress your costume up or dress it down to occasion. The current fashion program revolves around just this—one good suit and one smartly silhouetted basic dress, supplemented with as many carefully selected choice and interchangeable accessory items "as thy purse can buy."

So important is the accessory trend that most leading stores and shops employ specialists who will guide and advise as to making perfect selections that will correlate the costume entire into a harmony of color and design. To go sightseeing in specialized accessory departments is a sort of Alice in Wonderland experience. You will be fascinated with what you see. A thrill and a surprise awaits every step of your way.

In your meanderings among these fashion displays you will come across such charming ensembled accessories as a hat-and-boa duet, as shown above to the left in the illustration. The boa of two-toned tulle, copper penny color blended with champagne, casts a cloud of misty loveliness about milady's shoulders and throat. The pert forward-tilted hat takes on a swish of the tulle whimsy. For the little evenings that go to make up a social winter season, this adorable twosome will bring glamour galore to your simple basic dress. You can carry this lovely "set" out in other exquisite color combinations, such as deep fuchsia red with purple. If you are resourceful you can easily make a similar tulle boa yourself. What's more, the dainty diaphanous furbelow on the hat can be made detachable so that upon occasion it can be mounted on a comb and worn as a hair ornament. Yes, indeed, you are supposed to do just such sleight-of-hand tricks as this in order to carry out that new slogan for patriots, to "make the most of what you have."

The picture to the right above fairly bubbles over with exciting interest. The story centers about the versatile use of buttons. Take a note of the jeweled button originals down the front of the smart wool jacket. And now for the big thrill! The ornament which this lady of fashion wears so effectively in her hair is made of the same gleaming buttons that fasten the dress! Here's how—simply wire or sew the buttons to a comb top, for it's smart this season, as every fashion-alert woman knows, to ensemble your hairdo to your costume. Comes now the climax to this charming button story in the amazing earrings. They are made of the same identical buttons, and you can do it yourself. Simply snip off the plastic shank of two buttons with pliers. Pry settings out of an old pair of earrings. Drop a wee bit of plastic cement into the hollow disks and press buttons into place. These button originals come in 12 jewel tones so you will be able to match them to any costume. By the way, take note of how cleverly the scalloped yoke is finished off with a hand-crochet edge done in yarn perfectly color-matched to the fabric itself. Try it on that wool dress of yours that needs a touch to give it a new-this-year look.

The gay and picturesque bonnet snuggling about the head of the fashionable miss pictured below to the right is a sure and certain gesture toward adding a glamour touch to a young costume. Inspired by a Russian peasant headdress, this model is of bright green felt hand-embroidered in yarn and appliqued with paisley print. Hoop earrings add a touch of sophistication. And there is nothing equal to a flattering little fur or fur-trimmed chapeau to cast a glamour glow over your entire costume! The chic model shown is of a turquoise suede fabric surmounted with a chou of silver fox.

White Wool Knit

Here is a white wool knit ensemble of scarf, turtle-neck sweater and matching gloves It is a real treasure to have when the chill of winter comes on. Being white it has that about it which is very flattering. As illustrated, it is worn with a black tweed suit thus featuring the ever smart and good-looking black and white contrast. The black patent leather shoulder bag with its white stitching tunes to the black and white scheme perfectly

Moire and Satin Suits For Furlough Brides

Two-piece soft suits of crepe moire, slipper satin or faille, also one-piece dresses of these attractive materials, look just right for the furlough bride. The departments that make a specialty of catering to brides who want something youthful and not too formal, are showing dresses of this sort that tune perfectly into the wartime wedding picture.

These abound in fluttery little ruffles and they make much of sprightly self-fabric bows placed on pockets and at the new to-one-side fastenings. There is quite a little shirring used also and latest fashion reports tell of a revival of pin tucking in costume styling. Saw-tooth edges are a smart detail also, likewise self-fabric floral appliques. Aqua, gray, dusky pink and beige are favored colors, with soft blues the favorite of them all. Dresses of this type will be lovely for little evening affairs during the holidays.

Gloves in Two Colors

Gloves with wide frilled cuffs in contrasting color are new in the fabric types. The wide flare cuff lined with a contrasting color is also shown. This new bi-color scheme is repeated in the hat.

For you to make

WHETHER it's towel or pillowcase, scarf or cloth you are embroidering, it will be enhanced by these "true to life" garden favorites.

Fish Lays Eggs in Plants; Trout Is Lassoed in Leap

Thread-finned fish of the Amazon river leap out of the water and lay their eggs on overhanging plants.

A trout was lassoed by a fisherman as it leaped out of the waters of a California stream. It weighed six pounds, measured 28 inches. A U. S. forest ranger has a photograph to prove it.

Blackfish which live in the weedy swamps of Alaska and eastern Siberia can be frozen in the ice for months, but when thawed out become as lively as ever.

When you see news photos of soldiers "off duty" in camp or behind the battle-lines—notice how often you'll see them smoking a cigarette. There's a good reason for that. Army officials say that cigarettes are an appreciable factor in maintaining morale—and the soldiers themselves add that a carton of cigarettes from home is always welcome. What brand? Well, sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens show that Camels are the favorite cigarette with men in all the services. Though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen wherever they are.—Adv.

U. S. Military Courts in Britain

Of the dozen or more Allied Nations whose troops are stationed in Great Britain, the United States is the only one that has been permitted to establish its own military courts.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Military requirements take the major portion of available rubber supplies for tires (for planes, trucks, and other war vehicles), treads for tanks, boats, balloons, raincoats, pontons, shoes, surgical supplies, and hundreds of other essential military items. That's why patriotic civilians take the restrictions on their rubber use in an understanding spirit.

According to the court historian to Philip II, and recorded in 1615, Columbus was credited with having found natives bounding rubber play balls (1490-1500) and to have brought some back from Hispaniola to Queen Isabella.

Mrs. Newlywed's Secret Didn't Help Matters Any

Mr. and Mrs. Newlywed were silent as the train bore them swiftly homewards at the end of their honeymoon.

Mr. Newlywed had spent every available penny on the holiday and his next pay day was a full two weeks off.

But as they neared home the young wife gave a merry laugh.

With a frown her husband asked the cause of her merriment.

"I'm going to tell you a secret that will cheer you up, Billy," she said. "Before we went away I hid a ten dollar bill in a jar in the pantry."

"Yes," moaned the dejected spouse, "I know. I found it."

Army-Navy 'E' Awards Of Six Months' Duration

After a manufacturing plant has neld an Army-Navy "E" pennant for six months, the company's record is reviewed by a government awards board, says Collier's. If the plant has equaled or exceeded its previous six-months performance, a service star is added to the flag; if it has not maintained both quality and quantity through the fault of either the management or the employees, the flag is withdrawn and has to be earned over again.

Miss Fellman And Sergeant Stone Recite Wedding Vows In Church

Miss Sonja Ingeborg Fellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fellman, Arlington, Mass., became the bride of Sgt. George Elder Stone, U. S. M. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrew Stone, of Arlington, Mass., and Barre, Vermont, in Grace Lutheran church, Dec. 2. The Rev. Clarence Damschroeder read the double-ring service before the candlelighted altar, which was decorated with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms.

The wedding marches were played on the organ. Raymond Alm, a long time friend of the family, gave the bride away. She was a beautiful bride in a trained white satin gown trimmed with point lace. Silver leaves and bouvardia held her veil in place. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas centered with gardenias.

Mrs. Alfred Kohler, as matron of honor, wore a green lace gown and carried gerberia daises. Mr. Kohler, U. S. M. C., was best man.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Phelps, 4519 Brighton ave. Receiving with the bride was a long-time friend of the Fellman family, Mrs. Walter Peterson, of Los Angeles, formerly of Arlington.

For leaving the bride wore an aqua ensemble with matching accessories, and the gardenias from her bouquet.

The bride attended Arlington High school and a secretarial college of Cambridge, Mass. The bride groom attended Barre High school. They have been sweethearts since childhood.

Sgt. and Mrs. George Stone are residing at 5075 Niagara ave.

Mrs. George Stone, recent bride, arrived in Los Angeles, from Boston Nov. 28, and was the house guest of her mother's close friend, Mrs. Walter Peterson, until Wednesday. They both came down for the wedding.

Emery - Bockey Wedding

Miss Judith Bockey, daughter of Comdr. Charles C. Bockey, (DC) U. S. N., and Mrs. Bockey of Long Beach, formerly of this city, was claimed as bride by Lt. (jg) Sam Thornburn Emery (DC) U. S. N. R., son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank S. Emery, 2060 Evergreen st., Sunday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church. Canon Rankin Barnes read the service before the altar which was decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladoili and lighted tapers in candelabra.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in basque-styled gown of ivory satin. Her long tulle veil fell from a filagreed tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, gardenias and bouvardia.

Mrs. Guy Showley, as matron of honor, wore a gown of gold taffeta with fitted bodice. Her hat was fashioned of tulle and gold ostrich feathers, and she carried yellow roses and brown chrysanthemums.

The other attendants were: Mrs. Tom Cunningham and Miss Bonny Holcomb, who wore identically fashioned frocks of olive green taffeta with matching feathered hats. Their bouquets were of gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

John Watson served as best man. Ushers were Lt. Neil Turrentine U. S. A., Robert Golden, Leon Oursland and Lt. (jg) Robert Slater U. S. N. R.

A small reception was held for relatives and young friends of the young couple at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Emery.

Mrs. Bockey received in a turquoise crepe gown trimmed with jewel toned sequins. Gold sequins trimmed the saxe blue gown worn by Mrs. Emery.

After a short wedding trip the newlyweds will reside in San Diego, where the bridegroom is assigned for duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson of 3111 Ibsen street have sold their home to Dr. and Mrs. Burlingame of San Diego and this week moved to Lakeside where they have bought a small ranch.
